OUTLINES.

The United States court at Greensboro yesterday began the trial of five Charlotte cotton mill men for penalties aggregating $71,000 for violation of the immigration law by bringing over as contract labor 30 English girls and others to work in the cotton mills; one of the lines of defense will be that the immigrants were secured by an agent appointed by Governor Glenn.——Chief Engineer Stevens has resigned from the Panama Canal Commission and three army engineers have been designated to assist in the engineer work; the President states that the canal work is progressing satisfactorily and will continue to do so.——At Montreal, Canada, yesterday the lady principal and sixteen school children lost their lives by the burning of a school building; Miss Maxwell, the principal, had an opportunity to escape, but lost her life in attempting to save the kindergarten class.——The general debate on the ship subsidy bill was begun in the House at Washington yesterday and many speeches were made for and against it; the river and harbor bill was reported from the conference committee, the item for the North Carolina inland waterway being cut down to $550,000, to provide for a channel 10 feet deep and 90 feet wide, instead of a channel 12 feet deep.——Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, whose resignation as Secretary of the Treasury is soon to take effect, has been elected president of the Carnegie Trust Company, of New York.——After Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw had been on the stand for five days in the trial of Harry K. Thaw, in New York, District Attorney Jerome yesterday finished up his cross-examination; the attorneys for the defense succeeded in blocking the prosecution from using lawyer Abe Hummel as a witness against Mrs. Thaw; the case is nearing its end.——The Senate yesterday passed the Aldrich currency bill, to provide $1 and $5 bills to meet the demand for small change.——Charles J. Holman, of Pittsburg, who married Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's mother, issues a statement in which he declares that the girl's mother always sent her to Sunday School, and also denies that the girl's mother has made any affidavits or done anything else to embarrass her daughter in her trouble.——New York market: Money on call, firm, 3 3-4 to 4 per cent.; ruling rate, 4 3-4; closing bid, 4 1-2; offered at 4 3-4; spot cotton, 5 points up; closing, steady at 11.05 cents; flour, steady, with better inquiry; wheat, easy; No. 2 red, 82 1-2 elevator; corn, easy; No. 2, 58 1-2 elevator; oats, firm; rosin, firm; strained, common to good, 4.45 to 4.50.

Whenever bankers begin to tackle the ticker it is one of the nine days wonders if they don't tap the till.

Thousands of ladies wanted Mormon Senator Smoot to give up his seat in the Senate, but the Republican Senators stood by him and left the ladies holding the straps.

Cotton receipts are small in the eastern part of the belt, and astonishingly large in the southwestern cotton region. Texas seems to have deluged the ports and interior points.

Kansas boasts of a goose 71 years old. We have eaten some chickens that were probably contemporaries of that goose, but didn't have such luck in keeping out of the pot.

The trial of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has about concluded and now District Attorney Jerome will probably let into Harry Thaw, the fool lover and luny husband.

Four individuals out West have gone crazy over the Thaw case. The evidence of the insanity of three of them is not stated, but one of them is a woman who wants to marry Harry. Cause admitted.

Now comes a scientist to declare that insanity germs are contained in certain vegetables and grains. No doubt some people have absorbed some of those insanity germs "coming through the rye."

Even Grover Cleveland is jumping on the bachelor with all four feet. After he got him a wife he probably feels like kicking himself for wasting a big portion of his life in bachelordom.

An Arkansas girl declares that she is willing to marry any man who can support her. Many a man would quit being a bachelor if he could also be assured of support in the midst of trouble.

District Attorney Jerome's cross-examination of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw is enough to convince Harry that he surely had bats in his belfry when he picked up the hem of the chorus girl's skirt, kissed it and told her he loved her.

The country does not seem to be surprised that the Senate refused to turn Senator Reed Smoot out to grass. We always feared that the Senators couldn't be persuaded that the charges against the Mormon was so awfully serious as the women petitioners would have them believe.

THE COMING PRIMARY

Democratic City Executive Committee Will Meet at Office of Chairman To-Night.

ASSESS THE CANDIDATES

They Will Pay Expense of Election. Matter of Recommendations to the Governor — To Arrange Questions of Registration.

Pursuant to adjournment at its first meeting for organization, the City Democratic Executive Committee will meet this evening at 8 o'clock at the office of the chairman, Woodus Kellum, Esq., second floor of the Bunting building, on Princess street. A number of matters of political interest locally will be considered and Mr. Kellum asks that the members be requested through the press to be on hand promptly.

One of the matters for consideration is the resignation of Colonel J. VanB. Metts as secretary and a member of the committee from the Second ward. An effort will be made to have him withdraw the resignation but it is not known if this will be successful. Mr. George W. Chesnut is the other member from the Second ward and to him will be extended the courtesy of naming his colleague in the event Col. Metts cannot be induced to serve longer.

At the meeting the matter of assessment of the candidates to defray the cost of the primaries will be settled and a Finance Committee will be named to raise the required fund. Under the new Boney primary law, the committe has the power to make the rules and regulations governing the primary and it has also the right to disbar any candidates from entering the election who has not paid the assessment upon him by the committee. The number of candidates will have the effect of making the cost fall lightly on all and it is not expected that the candidates will object to this assessment feature. The Mayoralty candidates will, of course, contribute the lion's share of the cost comparatively. The committee will not have a hack at the various candidates on the Recorder's Court as these matters will be settled on at the general election in May for which the city pays the expense.

Another matter of some interest that will probably come up at the meeting tonight will be a response to the request of Governor Glenn for some expression as to whom the organization down here would like to have for members of the Board of Audit and Finance. The committee, it is expected, will give some expression by resolution or otherwise or will arrange for the calling of ward meetings in order that the voters may express their sentiment. While there is no hostility to the personnel of the present Board there is a movement for the voters of the various wards to have some say in the appointments. It is hard to forecast any expression from the committee in this regard with a full meeting.

The matter of registration for the primary, which will begin on Monday, will also be considered at the meeting tonight. There will be no new registration as the Morton amendment to the law to which was tacked on other matter, encountered some objection and did not pass in time for the primary this year. The books as used in the city election two years ago will be used. The registrars during the week will make a revisal of these books by entering the name of new voters and making such changes as are made necessary by removal from one ward to another.

The call for the primary was issued some days ago, giving the polling places and all other necessary information about the election.

POUNDED THEIR PASTOR.

Missionaries of Gladness on Their Rounds Last Night.

Rev. A. J. Parker, the popular pastor of Bladen Street M. E. Church, has long preached the sentiment that he is living among and serving the best people in the conference. If good deeds and kindness contribute to that ideal relation between pastor and congregation, then Mr. Parker is not far from wrong. Last night it was dark and stormy. Few ventured out except in cases where circumstances demanded it. But it was just the night to make the deed appear in sharp contrast to the elements and about 25 or 30 of the people of Mr. Parker's congregation called on him with various and sundry packages of all the good things imaginable. It was a good, old-fashioned Methodist pounding and Mr. and Mrs. Parker were overwhelmed with the kindness. A delightful evening was spent by the surprised host and hostess and their most welcome guests, for it was indeed a most happy affair.

CONVENTION COMING

Upwards of Two Hundred Delegates Expected For Inter-State Y. M. C. A. Meeting

TO ENTERTAIN THEM ALL

Woman's Auxiliary Will Assist in Work of Providing Homes for Visitors—Mrs. C. C. Covington Elected President.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian Association at an enthusiastic meeting held yesterday morning, set itself the task of providing homes for the two hundred and more delegates who are expected here on March 23rd, 24th and 25th to attend the Inter-State Y. M. C. A. Convention, arrangements for the entertainment of which have been on several days. The convention was held last year at Charleston, S. C., and at that meeting an invitation was extended and accepted for the big meeting to come to this city the present year. It is customary in cities where the convention assembles for the friends of the work to find homes for the delegates and it is the purpose of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Wilmington Association to see that the traditional hospitality of this city is brought into its fullest exercise on this occasion.

The question of providing homes was fully discussed at the meeting of the ladies yesterday morning and a committee was appointed to have this work in charge. The committee will call on the various friends of the Association and ascertain the number of people that can be provided for in each home. This information will be compiled so that there will be no confusion when the large number of delegates begin arriving. The committee will begin its duties early in the coming week and it is hoped that they will meet with favorable responses. The delegates come from the various city, railroad and college associations of the Carolinas and they will be found cultured and most agreeable guests. The matter of proper entertainment of these delegates is regarded as of so much importance that Wilmington pastors will be asked to make announcement of the request of the ladies from their pulpits next Sabbath In the meantime Secretary Charles Dushan would be glad of any information that may be telephoned to him. Governor Glenn and several prominent State officials are expected here for the convention.

At the meeting of the Auxiliary yesterday morning the resignation of Mrs. W. T. Bannerman as president was received with regret and Mrs. C. C. Covington was elected to succeed her for the remainder of the term. Other matters of business were of a routine and unimportant character.

EARLY AFTERNOON WEDDING

Miss Estelle Hillhouse the Bride of Mr. George E. Banks, Jr.

A pretty home wedding joining in marriage Miss Estelle Love Hillhouse, sister of Mrs. A. W. Anderson, on South Front street, this city, and Mr. George E. Banks, Jr., a prominent young business man of Winchester, Tenn., was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of the bride's sister. The ceremony was by the Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, of Wilmington, and a number of friends of the young people were present to witness the pretty event. Following the marriage an elegant luncheon was served at the home of Mr. Anderson, in honor of the bride and groom and wedding party and Mr. and Mrs. Banks left on the southbound train for a bridal tour which will terminate at the home of the groom at Winchester Tenn.

Although resident here but a short time, Miss Hillhouse has made a great many friends by her attractive personality and charming manner. A number of very handsome wedding gifts were received.

INTO THEIR NEW STORE

Messrs. Peterson & Ruifs Now at 202 North Front Street.

Messrs. Peterson & Ruifs, the well known shoe dealers, have removed to their handsome new store. No. 202 North Front street. It will take a day or two to straighten and arrange the stock and in the meanime the store will be closed but they hope to be open and ready for business on Friday of this week. They have one of the prettiest and most conveniently arranged shoe stores in the city and with the standard brands carried by them with a general stock of all incidentals to the shoe trade, they should reasonably expect in the new place to add to their already large and growing business. The recent novel manner of advertising the location of their store should leave no doubt in the minds of the people as to where they may be found.

Wrightsville Residents to Meet.

A meeting of property owners at Wrightsville Beach is called to be held at The Orton Thursday night. The purpose of the meeting is for a general discussion of the town's civic needs and for the nomination of mayor and board of aldermen of the corporation. A full attendance is desired.

HACKETT IN A FIGHT

Congressman-Elect from Eighth District Delivered Stinging Blow to Republican Committee Member, Who Drew a Knife.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 26.—The floor of the House of Representatives this afternoon was the scene of a vigorous encounter between Congressman-elect R. N. Hackett, of the Eighth District, and Representative C. G. Bryant, Republican, of Wilkes county. Hackett used his right effectively on Mr. Bryant's ear and jaw. Mr. Bryant drew a long-bladed pocket knife and made for Hackett, but was intercepted and disarmed. He then attempted to strike Hackett with an inkstand and subsequently with a chair, but the blows fell short. When quiet was restored Bryant apologized for his offensive words that brought on the fracas.

The fight took place while a Legislative committee was in session considering a matter concerning Wilkes county. Mr. Hackett had addressed the committee, and when he closed, Mr. Bryant ,a member of the committee, arose to speak. Referring to Hackett's remarks, he said that he resented the aspersion put upon the commissioners of his county. Hackett replied that he had not aspersed the commissioners. Bryant repeated the remark and then Hackett brought his first into the discussion. The committee was a tumult of excitement for five minutes. Hackett is a Democrat and both live in Wilkes county.

(By Southern Bell Telephone.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 26.—The hearing before the committee which caused the personal encounter between Mr. Hackett and Dr. Bryant was in regard to a bill permitting the county of Wilkes to build a bridge over a river at Elkinsville. Mr. Hackett said that the affairs of Wilkes were not satisfactorily managed enough to warrant the expenditure, which should not be placed in the hands of the Board of Commissioners of Wilkes; that the chairman W. F. Trogden, had been in jail in Richmond, charged with a serious offence. Dr. Bryant referred to the majority Mr. Trogden had received in the election and that the voters of Wilkes believed that the charges against him were absolutely false. Mr. Hackett was quickly on his feet and demanded of Dr. Bryant if he meant to say what he said was false. Dr. Bryant replied that he did and the blow was passed.

SYRIANS PUMMELLED NEGRO

Lively Encounter on Lower Market Street Yesterday About Noon.

There were lively times in the Syrian quarter on lower Market street yesterday about noon. William Conner, a negro who afterwards said that he had not been to Wilmington before in fifteen years, sauntered down the street and looked at some goods in one of the stores. Words ensued over some trivial matter and the son of Ham said that the first he knew five of the Syrian colony answered a rally call and fell upon him after the manner of wild beasts. They pummelled him good and when a policeman arrived on the scene, he was apparently a fit subject for the slaughter pen. The sons and daughters of the Orient had disappeared in their places of business like unto rats of the wharf breed. The officer had no alternative to taking the negro to the police station where a charge of disturbing the peace was lodged against him.

The colored man later secured bond and went before Justice Furlong and took out warrants for his assailants. The names as they appear on the papers for their arrests are: "Isaac, the Horse Trader, D. Kellallibi, Shade, Maggie Joseph and Jebine. "Bow Leg Bob," alias "Pot Hook Bob," said to be a clerk in one of the stores, a colored man, is marked as one of the principal witnesses. The hearing will take place before Justice Furlong today. A corps of interpreters will be required to elucidate the testimony before the magistrate when the case is called.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

Senator Graham Introduces An Entirely New Possenger Railway Rate Bill.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE DAY

New Freight Bill Modified as to Penalties and Preventing Discrimination—Sale of Stocks in Bulk. Committee Hearings.

(By So. Bell Long Distance Phone.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 26.—No reference was made on the floor of the State Senate today to the sensational charges made yesterday by Major Graham against President Francis D. Winston the presiding officer of the body because of his discrimination in appointing the conference committee on the railway passenger bill from among the enemies of the measure. Soon after the Senate convened, however, Major. Graham sprung something in the nature of a surprise by introducing an entirely new passenger rate bill, providing a two and a half cents flat rate on all roads of more than 100 miles in length, the shorter lines to be regulated as to rates by the Corporation Commission. He asked that the bill go to the Judiciary Committee and be reported back to the Senate in time to be a special order for Thursday. Strenuous objection was made to this reference by several Senators and it was finally referred to the regular Senate railroad committee of which Major Graham is chairman. It was charged that the bill would tend to block railway rate legislation at this session, but later Senator Graham said that he had no such intention in introducing the bill and requested by way of suggestion that the new measure go to the conference committee. The bill will be reported later from the regular committee on railroads of the Senate.

The Senate discussed at some length the House bill known as the "Bickett Lobby Bill" and finally defeated it by a vote of 22 to 19. There was also a lengthy discussion of the bill to prevent the sale of merchandise stocks in bulk, which is the measure urged by the Merchants' Association of the State. This bill passed its readings and was sent to the House for final concurrence in two or three minor amendments.

Governor Glenn sent a message to the Assembly urging an appropriation of $150,000 for a building on the present site of the Agricultural building. After the message had been read the announcement was made that the joint committee on Public Buildings and Grounds had agreed on a bill appropriating $50,000 a year for two years for the erection of a Supreme Court wing to the east end of the capitol. This bill is to be introduced in the next few days.

The Senate passed the Odell bill to limit the poll tax a city or town may charge to $2.

To change the lines of certain townships in Richmond.

To Supply lost records in Onslow.

Abolishing water and light commission at Newbern.

Amending the charter of the town of Rocky Mount and making that place a "city."

House bill to enable city of Fayetteville to sell, lease or contract for operation of the municipal electric plant.

The Holt bill to regulate freight rates was made the special order for Thursday. Among the bills introduced were:

Perrett, for the better working of the roads in Duplin.

Etheridge, to create a State Fish Commission.

In the House.

In the House today among bills introduced were:

By Koonce, for the relief of S. W. Bynum, a school teacher in Onslow.

By Bickett, for th elmprovement of live stock in the State.

By Bolton, to regulate the liability of common carriers towards their employes.

By Wells, to appoint justices of the peace in Pender county.

By Owen, to authorize commissioners of Sampson county to offer reward for defaulting sheriff and other officers; also to allow bondsmen of ex-Sheriff Aman to collect the taxes due in the county.

By McLean, to provide free ferries in Bladen.

By Hollowell, to levy special tax in Wayne county.

By McNeill, to allow Cumberland county to issue bonds for bridges.

Mr. MacRae, of Robeson, offered a resolution that hereafter on the first day of any session of the Legislature that members of the House meet and draw lots for seats in the hall of representatives.

The House passed the compulsory school law in the State on its final reading. It provides that children between the ages of 8 and 14 years be required to attend some school at least 16 weeks in each year in counties which come under the law by vote of the people or where the County Board of Education resolves to come under the law upon majority petition of the voters.

At the night session the House discussed the special order, which was the freight bill. The measure is designed to prevent unjust discrimina-

OUR RIVER AND HARBOR PROJECTS.

The Senate and House at Washington disagreed on several appropriations in the river and harbor bill, and conferees were appointed by both houses to agree upon them. The conferees have been in a dead lock since Saturday, but on Monday they got together on the bill and it will again be reported back to the Senate and House for adoption as compromised.

In the compromise some appropriations were stricken out and others cut down. Several items concerning North Carolina projects caused a big fight in the conference, and Senators Simmons and Overman had to do some warm work in taking care of North Carolina's interests. Yesterday's Charlotte Observer contains this Washington correspondence about the status of the Cape Fear and Inland Waterway projects:

"The conferees on the river and harbor bill have been in deadlock since Saturday morning over the amendment of Senator Simmons appropriating $704,000 for a waterway 12 feet deep by 90 feet wide from Core Creek to Beaufort inlet, and Senator Overman's amendment appropriating $200,000 to secure a 6 foot depth in the Cape Fear river from Wilmington to Fayetteville. Messrs. Burton and Dovener, of the House conferees, have been exceedingly determined in their opposition to that relating to the upper Cape Fear, but the North Carolina Senators have been tactful and resourceful.

"Mr. Burton sent for Senator Simmons this morning, and after a long consultation they agreed upon a compromise, which provides for a 10 foot by 90 foot instead of 12 by 90 foot waterway, and an appropriation of $550,000, being the full amount the engineers estimate is necessary to complete a canal 10 by 90 feet. This as hitherto stated is the third section of the Small inland waterway project. Senator Simmons yielded two feet in depth because it was shown that the depth of water in the Neuse river to Newbern was at present only 8 feet and to Washington only 9 feet, and upon assurance that when the depth of these and other sound rivers were increased that of the canal would be increased to meet the requirements of commerce.

"The House conferees refused positively to consent to Senator Overman's amendment or do anything further than authorize a new survey of the upper Cape Fear with a view to seeing if a more economical scheme could not be found to deepen the channel as desired. Senator Overman having become satisfied that was the only thing that could be done at this session consented to this arrangement. There was also a hard fight made by Mr. Burton on Senator Simmons' amendment providing for a survey for a 30-foot depth for Beaufort harbor. Mr. Burton told Mr. Simmons he could not and would not consent to 30 feet, but after some wrangling they compromised on a survey for 25 feet depth. Upon this basis what looked yesterday like a big fight with North Carolina leading the charge was settled. The total amount North Carolina gets under the bill is $1,103,000. Senator Simmons is being heartily congratulated on his victory."

The outcome of the fight is that the upper Cape Fear does not get that $200,000 for the canalization of the river between Wilmington and Fayetteville, but the conferees agreed to an appropriation covering a re-survey of the river channel for a less expensive scheme than that involving some costly locks and dams in the upper reaches of the Cape Fear. No appropriation is made for the 30 foot depth of Beaufort harbor, and the most secured for the project is a survey with a view to securing a depth of 25 feet.

The Inland Waterway scheme seems to have fared better, the channel and depth for the waterway being changed as mentioned above.

The Observer's correspondence refers to the new projects in North Carolina. The bill will, no doubt, take care of the lower Cape Fear and bar projects already under way.

ROOSEVELT SLURS SECRETARY STRAUS.

The labor lobby at Washington last week put in strenuous work against a liberal construction of the immigration law as made in the South Carolina case. The ruling of Mr. Straus, Secretary of Commerce and Labor, holding that a State can bring contract labor from Europe, has met with considerable opposition both outside and inside of Congress. The opponents of Mr. Straus' construction of the law claim that it permits a State to nullify the immigration law prohibiting the importation of labor under contract, as in the plan of Commissioner E. J. Watson, of South Carolina. They deny that the recent favorable ruling of Secretary Straus on the importation of foreign laborers by South Carolina should be permitted to justify any right of a State to break the force of the Federal contract labor law. It seems also that President Roosevelt takes that view and the New York Times sees in the President's speech to the Harvard students on Saturday "this apparent slur upon the work of a member of his own Administration:"

"State rights should be preserved when they mean the people's rights, but not when they mean the people's wrongs; not, for instance, when they are invoked * * * to break the force of the laws which prohibit the importation of contract labor to this country."

The Times comes to the defense of Secretary Straus from the President's slur, saying that Mr. Straus carefully investigated the question before rendering his decision in the South Carolina case. "His documentary statement in response to the inquiry of the House is a painstaking one," says the Times, and that able paper goes on to show that Secretary Straus' ruling was based upon the right of the State and because his investigation showed that "the manufacturing industries of South Carolina were languishing and in danger of material injury for lack of labor." The fact is Secretary Straus' ruling will hold water.

TAR HEEL CONGRESSMAN ON JAPANESE CONTROVERSY.

Says the Charlotte Observer of yesterday in an editorial paragraph:

"The Congressional Record of February 21 contains a speech by Representative Webb upon the San Francisco school controversy. In discussing the treaty-making power of the Federal government upon which the administration has based its interference Mr. Webb took good constitutional ground against such a claim and maintained it strongly. The question whether San Francisco's treatment of the Japanese has been in all respects just is, of course, another matter and is only incidental to Mr. Webb's argument."

Mr. Webb takes the sound view that will be endorsed throughout the South. He presented the matter in a strong light and the strength, cohesiveness and consecutiveness of the Tar Heel Congressman's argument demonstrates Mr. Webb's ability, a quality in him that has been made conspicuous on several occasions.

—A contemporary says that the earliest example extant of the use of paper in Europe is a letter, dated A. D. 1216, preserved at the Record Office. It is from Raymond, son of the Duke of Narbonne, to King Henry III, asking him to collect 28 shillings for three shiploads of salt sold by R. de Car to David de Lenie, draper, of London.—London Paper Making.

—Gen. Kuropatkin's book on the late war in the Far East causes Gen. Oku, who licked him, to indulge in broad smiles and sarcastic comments. Oku says Kuropatkin has not written history, but a personal defense of himself; that the Russian knew his subordinates were disobeying orders and making fatal errors, but he neither corrected nor disciplined them. But Oku ought to be satisfied. If Kuropatkin and his subordinates had not made gross blunders the outcome of the war might have been other than it was.—Savannah News.

—Among the interesting assets which Moran has to its credit is a goose which has reached the mature age of 71 years. This oldest inhabitant of the fowl tribe in Allen county is owned by James Strong. Mr. Strong has owned it for many years and is greatly attached to it, and does everything to make its latter days pleasant. There are, of course, reasons other than those of sentiment why this goose is safe from being served up as a table delicacy. In 1871, when William Jones left Iowa for Kansas, a friend gave him a goose which was 35 years old at the time. It was regarded as a fairly venerable bird then, but it stood the hardship of pioneer life in Allen county with no complaint. When Newt Strong married a niece of Mr. Jones he gave them the goose. Later they moved to Iowa and left the goose with James Strong, who still has it.—Kansas City Journal.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

"I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for, thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. DAUGHTER OF C. W. STUMP.

Mrs. C. W. Stump, of Canton, Ohio, writes: "I wish I could induce every mother who has a weak, sickly child to try that delicious cod liver preparation, Vinol. Our little daughter was pale, thin and sickly. She had no appetite and no ambition.

"We tried various medicines, but without any benefit whatever, and she could not take cod liver oil or emulsions, as they nauseated her and upset her stomach.

"Learning that Vinol contains all the medicinal and strength-creating properties of cod liver oil, but without the disagreable oil, we decided to try it, and the results were marvelous. It gave her a hearty appetite; the color returned to her cheeks and she is stronger and in better health than she has been for years.

"I cannot say enough in favor of Vinol for weak, delicate children."

Our local druggist, Robert R. Bellamy, says: "We have never sold a medicine in our store equal to Vinol for delicate, ailing children, weak old people, or sickly women and children, and we return money if it fails to benefit." Robert R. Bellamy, Druggist.

Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Wilmington, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

To Fight Against Disease Unless They Strike at the Underlying Cause.

To treat Dandruff, and Falling Hair, with irritants or oils on which a parasitic germ will prosper, is like scooping water from the ocean to prevent the tide from rising.

You cannot accomplish a satisfactory cure without having a right understanding of the fundamental causes of the trouble.

You must kill the Dandruff Germ.

BEATEN BY A HAIR.

Hannibal Hamlin's First Try For the United States Senate.

When Hannibal Hamlin was speaker of the Maine house of representatives, away back in the forties of the last rentury, there was in that body a certain gentleman of faultless attire, pleasing manners, good address and some reputation, but he had one foible. His hair was very thin, and he was highly sensitive in regard to it.

To hide his approaching baldness he had a habit of carefully stroking with bandoline or other preparation each particular hair in its place. One day while in the chair as speaker Mr. Hamlin, in the innocence of a good and joke loving nature, sent for this gentleman and, looking fixedly at his smooth and polished pate, said with a chuckle:

"Blank, old fellow, I just wanted to tell you that you've got one of the hairs of your head crossed over the other."

"You insult me, sir! You insult me!" replied the member, with unexpected and altogether unnecessary indignation, and then, refusing to listen either to reason or explanation, he left the speaker's desk and returned to his seat.

When Mr. Hamlin became a candidate for the United States senate this gentleman was a member of the upper house of the Maine legislature. Although a member of the same party and only one more vote was needed to secure Mr. Hamlin's election, he positively refused to vote for the man by whom he believed he had been insulted.

He was defeated for a seat in the senate—by a hair, but when the next vacancy occurred he was elected.—"Lives of Twelve Illustrious Men."

THE FIRST AUTOMOBILE.

It Was Made In 1572 and Was Worked by a Coiled Spring.

"The first automobile," said the chauffeur, "was made by Johann Haustack of Nuremberg in 1572. Its motive power was neither oil, steam nor electricity, but a coiled spring.

"The first steam automobile was built in France by Cugnot in 1770. It is still to be seen. It is one of the star exhibits of the Conservatoire des Arts et Metiers in Paris. Steam carriages modeled after it were built by William Murdoch, James Watt, Nathan Read and Richard Trevethick. These are, most of them, in museums in London and Birmingham.

"Several steam carriages plied for hire on the streets of London at the beginning of the nineteenth century, but they were so slow, noisy and heavy that the people did not take to them.

"The first modern automobile was built by Amadee Bollec in 1873. Bollec exhibited his car in Vienna and in Paris, and other men, as is always the case, devised improvements on it. Automobiles, by about 1890, began to appear in the jokes of the day. They had taken their place. But it was not until the annual cup races began in France in 1894 that the automobile became a really popular institution."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Bowdoin College.

Bowdoin college (pronounced Bod'n) was founded at Brunswick, Me., in 1794. It was named in honor of James Bowdoin, an American statesman in high standing, who died in 1790. His son, James Bowdoin, a gentleman of wealth, who later served in diplomatic circles, being United States minister to Spain, 1805-08, gave to the college at its founding 1,000 acres of land and $5,000 in money. At his death in 1811 he willed to the institution a number of valuable gifts—6,000 acres of land, a library of several thousand books, a collection of fine paintings and an assortment of scientific apparatus. This institution, where the poet Longfellow taught for five years, has preserved its high standing from the first.

Seven In Human Life.

A writer divides the human life as follows: At three times seven a man reaches a competent age in the eyes of the law; at four times seven he is in full possession of his strength; at five times seven he is fit for the business of the world; at six times seven he becomes grave and wise if he is ever destined to; at seven times seven he is in his apogee, and from that time he begins to decay; at eight times seven he is in his first climacteric, at nine times seven he is in his grand climacteric, and at ten times seven he has reached the allotted span of life.

A Tough Chicken.

A New Orleans man has proved that a chicken can live twenty-three days without food or water. He makes affidavit that when his family moved recently a chicken securely nailed in a box was in the cellar of the new house, having been forgotten by the former tenants. Twenty-three days later the cook was moved to explore the cellar and discovered the chicken, emaciated, but still much alive.

The Insanity.

"I want to get a divorce from my husband."

The lawyer was interested. "What are your grounds?" he asked.

"Insanity."

"Was he crazy at the time of the marriage?"

"Oh, dear, no; I was."

Breaking It Gently.

"How much coal is there, Susan? How long will it last?"

"Well, ma'am, it will last quite awhile if you don't have any fires."

"Then there isn't much left?"

"There isn't any left, ma'am."

No Change Necessary In Rexall Remedies

The new Pure Food Law requires every patent medicine manufacturer to tell just what dangerous drug is in his medicine. Certain periodicals interested in patent medicine reform have declared that the formulas of many patent medicines will have to be changed before the manufacturers will dare conform with this law. These periodicals also declare that the public will never know of these changes, and never know what these remedies formerly contained.

This suspicion, however, cannot rest upon Rexall Remedies. You have absolute proof that Rexall Remedies have not been changed to conform with the new Pure Food Law, because you knew the formulas of these remedies four years ago! The Rexall formulas were never secret. The thousand Rexall druggists have always known all the Rexall formulas and given them to every customer who asked for them.

No one Rexall Remedy was ever claimed to be a "cure-all"—each of the 300 remedies is designed to cure a certain human ill—and does it. These 300 remedies were selected from among thousands because they were the most reliable and successful cures in the world. Far from wishing to conceal the formulas of these remedies, we are proud to tell just what they are, and always have been.

That's where the Rexall plan goes further to safeguard you than does the Pure Food Law. Even now you'll only know the dangerous drugs in other patent medicines, while you have always been able to know the complete formulas of Rexall Remedies!

The Rexall guarantee has been the greatest evidence of the sincerity back of the Rexall Remedies. For four years Rexall druggists have offered to return the money to any one who brought back an empty Rexall bottle or package and said they were not satisfied.

We, as one of the Rexall druggists, feel a genuine satisfaction in having been able to supply this community for four years with one line of medicines which the United States Government by its new Pure Food Law shows were always made right and sold right, and have deserved every bit of the faith you have had in them.

The Pure Food Law may necessitate changes in other medicines, but it only endorses Rexall Remedies.

A few of th. 300 famous REXALL Remedies, one for each human ill, are:

FOR CATARRH—MUCU-TONE

The chief ingredients of Mucu-Tone are Gentian, Cubebs, Cascara Sagrada, Glycerine and Sarsaparilla.

Gentian is recognized in medicine as one of the greatest tonics ever discovered. It combines the tonic powers of all known "bitters," with none of the disadvantages applying to any.

Cubebs have long been recognized as a specific in the treatment of all catarrhal conditions. Its action is prompt and its benefit almost invariable.

Cascara Sagrada is especially introduced for its unapproachable laxative properties. The combination of these with Glycerine and Sarsaparilla makes Mucu-Tone a remedy that attacks catarrh from every point and gradually restores the diseased tissues. Bottle, 50c.

FOR NERVES — AMERICANITIS ELIXIR

The Rexall Americanitis Elixir is a tonic nerve food composed chiefly of free Phosphorus, Glycophosphates, Iron Pyrophosphate and Calisaya.

The wonderful results of this remedy are due to the fact that it supplies Phosphorous to the nerve cells in a condition in which it can be immediately and easily taken up by them.

The Glycophosphates, actual nerve-tissue builders, are one of the most recent and valuable additions to this branch of medicine and unquestionably a more efficient remedy than the well-known Hypophosphites.

The Iron Pyrophosphates are the most easily assimilated form of iron which give tone and color, and the combined alkaloids of Calisaya Bark have a tonic effect on almost all the functions of the body. 75c. and $1.50 a bottle.

REXALL "93" HAIR TONIC

The famous Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is composed in chief of Resorcin, Beta Naphthol and Pilocarpin.

Resorcin is one of the latest and most effective germ-killers discovered by science, and in connection with Beta Naphthol, which is both germicidal and antiseptic, a combination is formed which not only destroys the germs which rob the hair of its nutriment, but creates a clean and healthy condition of the scalp, which prevents the development of new germs.

Pilocarpin is a well-known agent for restoring the hair to its natural color, where the loss of color has been due to a disease of the scalp. It is not a coloring matter or dye.

This combination of curatives mixed with alcohol as a stimulant, perfects the most effective remedy for hair and scalp troubles known today. Per bottle, 50c.

"REXALL" ORDERLIES

The New Laxative

If you suffer from constipation or a sluggish liver, we want you to try this newest member of the Rexall family. It has never failed.

"Rexall" Orderlies have all the virtues and none of the defects of those laxatives and cathartics already known. They are harmless vanilla-flavored tablets that effect a re-adjustment of Nature's functions—no griping, no nausea, no purging.

Pleasant to the taste—they give immediate relief.

A trial will prove to you that they are the best laxative and cathartic ever prescribed.

TRIAL OF THAW IS NEARING END

Distirct Attorney Jerome Finished Cross-Examination of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

HAD BEEN ON STAND 5 DAYS

Thaw's Counsel Won Victory in Keeping Lawyer Hummel from Testifying—Few More Alienists to Be Examined in Case.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's long ordeal upon the witness stand at the trial of her husband for the killing of Stanford White, came to an end today. Mr. Jerome finished his cross-examination which had lasted through nearly five court days, at the morning session. The redirect examination and re-cross examination this afternoon were of the briefest character and just prior to adjournment it was announced that the defendant's wife had finally been excused.

Tomorrow morning the District Attorney will begin his cross-examination of Dr. Britton D. Evans, one of the alienists for the defense. He will follw this up by cross-examination of Dr. Charles G. Wagner, and then Dr. Morgan and Bingaman will be called in rapid order. The trial, at last, seems to be entering upon its final stages.

The completion of Mrs. Thaw's examination followed the unsuccessful effort of the prosecution to draw from Abraham Hummel certain facts relating to the affidavit which Mrs. Thaw is said to have made in Hummel's law office. In this affidavit it is declared there was an allegation that Thaw had beaten the girl while abroad in 1903, when she told him there was no truth in the story about her relations iwth Stanford White.

Mr. Delmas for the defense, blocked practically every question put to Hummel. The witness got no further than to say he knew Mrs. Thaw, that she came to his office October 27, 1903, and that he dictated to a stenographer while she was there. Justice Fitzgerald held that under the rules of evidence covering Mrs. Thaw's testimony the introduction of collateral facts was not permissable. The District Attorney is not allowed to controvert her testimony in any way, but may test her credibility. Mr. Jerome said in open court that he realized that even if he could show that Stanford White was in Europe the night Mrs. Thaw declares she was assaulted by him, he would not be allowed to introduce such testimony. It was reported that Mr. Jerome has much testimony in rebuttal, but as it is nearly all of a collateral character he will not be allowed to place it before the jury.

Mrs. Thaw today was given the opportunity to clear up the odds and ends of her story. Mr. Jerome introduced in evidence her school girl diary and read certain extracts from it. They caused many smiles in the court room, reflecting as they did the young woman's views of life during that period.

Mrs. Thaw denied again that she had ever used a penny of the letter of credit Stanford White gave to her under seal before she went to Europe with Thaw and her mother. She denied that she had ever been mentioned in any way in connection with the James A. Garland divorce. She said Stanford White paid all her brother's school expenses and identified receipts and checks signed by her mother, showing that the latter drew more than $3,000 from Stanford White's funds during the year from May, 1902, to May, 1903. Evelyn was at school during most of this time.

Just before Harry Thaw was taken out of the court room he handed the reporters the following note:

"Mrs. Thaw and Lady Ashburton, formerly Frances Belmont, were not friends. They were simply acquaintances when both were playing at the same theatre."

When Abe Hummel was sworn and took his seat in the witness chair today the big court stenographer, seated in front of the stand, all but hid the little witness from general view. The top of his bald head could occasionally be seen nodding to and fro. He was shown the photographic copy of the last page of the famous affidavit, which Mr. Hummel said refreshed his memory so that he could state positively that the date on which Evelyn Nesbit Thaw called at his office was October 27, 1903.

"Did Miss Nesbit have a conversation with you in your office?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Yes," said Hummel.

"Did you dictate to a stenographer while she was present?"

Witness said he did dictate a statement in the presence of Miss Nesbit.

"On the next day," asked Mr. Jerome, "did Jacobson or Snydecker give you a paper?"

"Yes."

A document was shown the witness and he was asked if it was not a carbon copy of the paper referred to.

Mr. Delmas at once objected and was sustained by the court, it being held that the question was an attempt to controvert collateral facts brought out on cross-examination.

Mr. Jerome asked Hummel several other questions, whether he gave the paper to Evelyn Nesbit, what became of it, and when she next went to his office, but objections to all of them were sustained.

Mr. Hummel was, thereupon, excused.

Abraham Snydecker, who was a clerk in Hummel's office, next was called. He said he knew Evelyn Nesbit.

"Did you, on October 28, 1903, see her sign a paper?" asked Mr. Jerome.

Mr. Delmas objected to the ques-

Miss Maxwell Was Asphyxiated in Endeavor to Save Kindergarten Class, Although She Had Opportunity to Save Herself.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Montreal, Que., Feb. 26.—Principal Maxwell and sixteen children perished in a fire which broke out this afternoon in the Hochelaga school of the Protestant School Commission. The school was located in a brick two-story building in the east end of the city and was attended by about two hundred children whose parents are mechanics living in the neighborhood.

The fire started from the furnace, and was first noticed by workmen employed nearby. The teachers were notified and the work of getting the children out of the building began. The kindergarten department was located on the second floor and it was here that the loss of life occurred. The children were started out, but on reaching the landing, found the lower hall full of smoke. Into this they refused to descend, though the way at this time was quite safe. Huddled together on the stairway at first they retreated to the rooms from which they had come. When the firemen arrived, an extension ladder was placed in position and a large number of children were rescued in this way.

Assisting in the work was Miss Maxwell, the principal. The fire by this time was making its way upwards, and the smoke was growing so dense that even the experienced firemen could not stand it. Captain Carson endeavored to get Miss Maxwell to go down the ladder, but she refused, and evading the attempt to detain her, rushed back into the back part of the building in search of others of the little ones. When the firemen were finally able to make their way to the back portion of the building she was found lying on the floor with a little one beside her. All those who perished died from asphyxiation.

The building was unprovided with fire escapes.

SECRETARY SHAW'S NEW JOB

Elected President of Carnegie Trust Co., of New York.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Feb. 26.—Leslie M. Shaw Secretary of the Treasury, was today elected president of the Carnegie Trust Company, of this city, the election to take effect March 5.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Secretary Shaw, who was today elected president of the Carnegie Trust Company at New York, was asked what effect his acceptance of this position would have upon his political future. Secretary Shaw said:

"A man by taking thought may make himself justice of the peace, but no man in my time, by taking thought, has made himself President of the United States, and those who have given the subject most serious consideration have usually died in disappointment. Whatever Shaw Presidential sentiment now exists has sprung up spontaneously and unless it continues to grow in the same way my name will never be mentioned in a National convention. Meantime I will not decline appropriate tasks nor refuse to do my duty of the world's work. I recognize that retirement to private life is usually acquiesced in without protest and should no one now object, it will not annoy or lead to political estrangement. During all the years of my manhood I have taken a more or less active part in political campaigns and my interest in them will not flag, though the opportunity to participate in them to as great an extent may be wanting; and it will be for my party to determine whether I am again invited from the congenial fields of personal endeavor to the perplexities of public service."

CURRENCY BILL PASSED

Measure Aims at Providing $1 and $5 Bills—Other Features.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Feb. 26.—The Senate today passed the Aldrich currency bill, by a vote of 43 to 14. The currency bill authorizes the issuance of ten dollar gold certificates, to the end that the ten dollar greenbacks may be broken up into one, two and five dollar bills, for which there is a great demand. It also authorizes the deposit of custom receipts in national banks as internal revenue receipts are now deposited. It raises from $3,000,000 to $9,000,000 the amount of national bank circulation that may be retired in any one month.

Conference reports were adopted on the following appropriations bills: Naval, army, fortifications and district of Columbia. The conference report on the bill allowing the government the right of appeal in criminal cases was agreed to, as was also that on a bill opening for settlement one million acres of the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota.

MILL MEN'S TRIAD AT GREENSBORO

Government Prosecuting Five Charlotte Manufacturers For Importing English Girls.

ASKS $71,000 IN PENALTIES

Grand Jury Has Also Found Criminal Indictment for Conspiracy to Evade Immigration Law—Trial Deeply Concerning South.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Greensboro, N. C., Feb. 26.—Before Judge Boyd, in the United States Circuit Court here today, the case of the government against the Charlotte mill men was called for trial and five witnesses were examined. The government seeks to recover $71,000 in penalties for alleged violations of law by the defendants, in bringing into the United States certain aliens under promise, offers and solicitations, to labor in the cotton mills in and around Charlotte. The case now on trial is one in which twenty penalties are asked for and this will be used as a test case. In addition to this a criminal indictment for the conspiracy has been found against them.

The names of the defendants are Thomas Costello, immigration agent; E. A. Smith, president of the Chadwick and Hoskins mill; Sumner B. Sargent, general manager of the business of the D. A. Tompkins Company, and E. C. Dwell, secretary and treasurer of the Chadwick mills.

Thirty of the aliens will be witnesses in the case and the trial will probably consume three weeks.

Assistant Attorney General A. W. Cooley is assisting in the prosecution. Inspector J. W. Reynolds, of the Department of Manufactures at Washington, who conducted the packing house investigation is here.

The principal points of the defense is that Thomas M. Costello had been commissioned by the Governor of North Carolina as immigration agent, and as a further defense it is contended that skilled employes for the mills could not be secured in this country.

Throughout the South there is a great scarcity of cotton mill labor, and for this reason great interest is felt by cotton mill men in the result in the case now on trial, which will be carried to the highest court of the land if a favorable decision is not secured. The Department of Labor and Commerce is greatly interested in the cases and has two representatives here.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

Conference Report Allows $550,000 for Inland Waterway.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Feb. 26.—General debate on the so-called ship subsidy bill was begun in the House, and under an agreement continued throughout the day. The rule limiting the general debate to five hours was by unanimous consent amended so that general debate shall run through tomorrow, with a night session from 8 to 11 o'clock, when the debate will terminate. Many speeches were made on the bill, Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, appearing as its principal champion.

The conference reports on the fortifications appropriation and the omnibus revenue cutter bill were adopted. All the Senate provisions regarding fortifications at Fort Moultrie, S. C., Forts Pickens and McRee, Florida; the defense of Pensacola, Fla., and Mobile, Ala., and Fort St. Philip, La., were retained as inserted by the Senate, but with reductions as to the amounts of the appropriations.

The conference reports on the army appropriation bill and the river and harbor bill were presented. The Senate provision for a deep water survey at Savannah, Ga., was not accepted. There was a change in the Senate amendment providing for a deep water way in North Carolina from Pamlico Sound to Beaufort inlet so as to provide for a 10-foot channel instead of 12-foot, the cost being limited to $550,000.

Among the amendments yielded by the Senate was one making an additional appropriation of $70,000 for the Western branch at Norfolk, Virginia. Among the items retained was one appropriating $375,500 for St. John's river, opposite Jacksonville, Florida.

Conferences were appointed on the postoffice appropriation bill, after an ineffectual effort had been made to recede and concur in certain Senate amendments relating to the pay of rural letter carriers and railway mail employes.

Two veto messages of House bills were received from the President, one of them negativing the Kiowa Pasture town site bill and the other a bill for the relief of the civilians who served in the Civil war.

THAT BIG STEAL IN CHICAGO

Sub-Treasury Officials Not Certain $173,000 Was Stolen.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Chicago, Feb. 26.—The officials investigating the disappearance og $173,000 from the sub-treasury today declared that they were unable to trace the theft to any one person and they are strongly inclined to believe that the disappearance is not the result of a theft, but of a clerical error.

George Fitzgerald, the teller from whose cage the money disappeared, was followed by a secret service agent last night and again today. Fitzgerald threatened the man with violence if he followed him any more. Following the incident Captain Porter of the secret service removed the detective from the duty of watching Fitzgerald.

Sub-Treasurer Boldenweck declared today that there is no intention of arresting Fitzgerald. The sub-treasurer added that there is not the slightest evidence of theft against Fitzgerald or any other person.

NOW STEVENS HAS RESIGNED

Chief Engineer of Panama Canal Commission Throws Up His Job.

ARMY ENGINEERS TO BE SENT

President Roosevelt Parts With Stevens and Says Work On Canal is Progressing Satisfactorily and Will Continue to Do So.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Washington, Feb. 26.—The president has received a letter from Mr. John F. Stevens, chief engineer of the Panama Canal Commission, in which he asks to be entirely relieved from work on the canal as soon as he can be replaced by a competent person and that person can become familiar with the work. The President has accepted Mr. Stevens' resignation. In order to secure continuity in engineering control and management in the future the President has asked the Canal Commission to assign to the office of the chief engineer Major George W. Goethals, of the engineer corps. The President in his letter to the commission says:

"It is not my purpose by requesting this appointment to disturb in any way the present organization on the isthmus, which is very satisfactory, nor to interfere with the admirable work now being done by the present assistant chief engineer, Mr. Ripley and the various heads of departments. The work of construction is going on well and will continue to do so. The organization already created is increasing the excavation each month and can be relied upon under competent leadership to make further and constant progress pending a period within which a new form of contract can be devised by Major Goethals and his associates, if it is deemed advisable to do the work by contract. The services of the same high class contractors whose bids we are now rejecting or others of similar standing may then be invoked in the interest of economy and speed."

Major Gaillard and Major Sibert, members of the engineer corps, are to accompany Major Goethals to the isthmus, and assist him in his labors. They are to be apponted members of the Commission. The President requests the Commission to take formal action necessary to reject the Oliver and MacArthur bids, in accordance with the power reserved to it in its invitation.

WARM WIRELETS

The night express train bound from Halifax, Nova Scotia, to Boston, collided with a canadian Pacific express running from Halifax to Montreal on the Inter-Colonial railroad at Brookfield late last night. Several persons are reported killed. Both trains are said to be badly wrecked.

The westbound Chicago express on the Grand Trunk was wrecked near Guelph, Canada, yesterday. Three persons were killed and every passenger on the train suffered more or less serious injuries. The entire train with the exception of the engine jumped the track and plunged over a thirty-foot embankment. The train was running at the rate of forty miles an hour when the accident occurred.

Various Hamburg and Bremen firms have been defrauded out of about $200,000 by means of forged bills of lading in connection with three British steamers from Galveston, the Harlyn and the Strathaily, at Hamburg, and the Inchmaree, at Bremen, loaded with cotton seed. The Strahailey belongs to the Galveston cotton seed and meal company. The identity of the swindlers has not been discovered.

In the fighting Monday afternoon that resulted in the capture by Nicaraguan forces of the Honduran town San Marcos de Colon, which was defended by the Honduran minister of war at the head of a strong army, the Honduran General Megia Vidal and 100 officers and soldiers were captured. The Nicaraguans also gained possession of one piece of artillery and a large quantity of ammunition. Many men were killed and wounded in the fighting. It is rumored that Salvador is aiding General Bonilla, the president of Honduras, and that the revolutionists in Honduras are arming themselves.

Six hundred and thirty Japanese steerage passengers arrived in San Francosco Monday night on the Pacific Mail liner Mongolia and in equal number are expected by the immigration officials on the arrival of a liner from the Hawaiian Islands that will take up the consignment of Japanese that the Nippon Maru will leave at Honolulu. No orders were received from Washington by the local immigration officials relative to the debarring of Japanese on the Mongolia from the California shore and after a perfunctory examination they were allowed to land.

At Culpepper, Va., yesterday Commonwealth Attorney J. A. C. Keith concluded the case of the State against James and Philip Strother, charged with the murder of William Bywaters, their brother-in-law, and today the defense will begin the presentation of the evidence which they claim will establish complete justification under the plea fo the "unwritten law." The defense will begin by Putting Mrs. Viola Bywaters, sister of the defendants on the stand to tell the story of her wrong by Bywaters, leading up to the tragedy on the night of her marriage, December 15, last, when her brother shot and killed him at the family home, "Rotherwood," four miles from Culpepper.

tion, the court ruled with him and Mr. Snydecker was excused.

Mr. Delmas, having blocked, for the time being, all testimony regarding the alleged affidavit, asked that Mrs. Evelyn Thaw be recalled. When she had taken the stand Mr. Jerome handed her a paper and asked if from first to last it was in her handwriting. Mrs. Thaw spent some time in an examination of the paper, smiling occasionally as she read. It soon developed that the paper was a diary. Mrs. Thaw said the paper she had examined was all in her handwriting.

"Is it not a diary which you kept in 1902?"

Mrs. Thaw said she kept the diary while at school at Pompton, N. J., in 1902. Mr. Jerome then read a few extracts from the diary. One was as follows: "Mrs. DeMille said to come right in and I jumped with the agility of a soubrette and began to get shy."

Then Mr. Jerome began and read this: "My room here is neither large nor small. There is a white, virtuous bed. I took a nap, and the last thing I remember was I wondered how far I am from Rector's. Rector's is really not a proper place for an innocent young person, but I always had a weakness for it."

The District Attorney turned to another page and read:

"I hereby swear never to read another. But the one nice thing about Janice Meredith is that she is not really an angel—one of those persons too good for this world."

"When one comes to think it over, it is good to have lived. A girl who has always been good and never had any scandal about her is fortunate in more ways than one. On the other hand, not one of them will ever be anything. By anything I mean just that. They will, perhaps, be good wives and mothers, but whether it is ambition or foolishness, I want to be a good actress first."

This ended the diary reading and Mr. Jerome turned to the witness.

"From the time you first became acquainted with Thaw in 1903 until the shooting of Stanford White, June 25, 1906, did you ever see anything in his conduct that was irrational?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Yes."

Mrs. Thaw then detailed several instances. She said that one night that while on Broadway, in a cab they saw White. Thaw became much excited. "I don't know what you would call it," she said, "but I would call it a fit. He cried and sobbed and bit his nails and talked rapidly."

Prompted by Mr. Jerome, she said his body trembled, he clasped and unclasped his hands his eyes rolled. The next time they saw White was when he entered a box opposite them in a theatre. At this time Thaw again became excited, his eyes rolled and he stared. When they saw White's conduct was the same.

Thaw, the witness said, complained that White kept him from being elected to some club, she did not remember which. This caused talk of persecution, she said.

Mr. Jerome's next question proved to be the last of his cross-examination. It was: "Did Thaw recollect having seen White after these outbursts?"

"Yes."

"That is all, except that I may at some future time ask the witness to explain phrases in Thaw's letters which we have just received.

After recess Mrs. Thaw was again called to the stand by Mr. Delmas for re-direct examination. Mr. Delmas showed Mrs. Thaw a number of receipts and checks, asked if they were not in the hand-writing of her mother.

"Yes, sir," replied the witness, after a brief scrutiny of the papers.

Mr. Delmas handed the witness several photographs and asked by whom they were posed. Mrs. Thaw said the photographer at the East 22nd studio posed her for most of the pictures. She picked out one holding a bunch of flowers and said White had assisted in the posing.

Among the photographs brought into court this afternon was the big album Stanford White made for Evelyn of her pictures. The defendant was much interested in this. He called for it, and placing it on the table in front of him, poured over its pages. Mr. Delmas showed Mrs. Thaw a letter and asked if a name in it was not that of a very prominent New York society woman. Mr. Jerome objected to this question, but after a short argument Mr. Jerome said: "We are prepared to admit that she is a prominent New York woman."

"One of the most prominent?" asked Mr. Delmas.

"Decidedly, yes."

"And she holds a position in the best society in New York?"

"Well," said Mr. Jerome, dryly, "She's in the 400."

"You said your brother Howard went to school in 1902. Who arranged for that?"

"Mamma and Stanford White."

"Who paid for the schooling?"

"Stanford White."

"Did you draw any money for yourself out of the letter of credit which White gave you when you went to Europe in 1903?"

"I did not."

"Did you draw any for your mother?"

"Yes—in Boulogne mamma saw something in a shop window. She knew I had this money and I let her have what she wanted."

"When Thaw heard of this he raised a fuss and said I should not have spent the letter of credit money."

He took the letter of credit from the witness so that her mother could not spend any more.

RAILROAD INVESTIGATION.

Inter-State Commerce Commission's Inqunry Into Harriman Lines.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

New York, Feb. 26.—An assertion that Stuyvesant Fish was deposed from the presidency of the Illinois Central because of misconduct as to the funds of the company.

A continued refusal to answer questions relating to individual stock transactions. Explanations of the transfer of 300,000 shares of Southern Pacific stock to William G. Rockefeller during the attempt of James R. Keene, to secure control of the road, and of the delayed announcement of the dividends in Union and Southern Pacific.

Attempts by the government to show that the Union Pacific charges unfair rates, stifles competition in the vast territory traversed by its lines, and that its dividend of ten per cent., and its expenditure of 140,000,000 on betterments came from an unfair toll on its patrons.

An academic discussion of railway regulations by high authorities on either side that ran for a plan for legalized combinations of railroads under government supervision to a suggestion that the government control railway stock issues.

A charge and an admission that the misconduct of the railroads created the popular anger that moves determinedly for their regulation.

A charge that no other country in the world is so hostile to large transportation interests.

An assertion that the purchase of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific had given the Southwest ten years advantages in development; that the failure of the Union Pacific to secure the Northern Pacific left the Northwest ten years behind if control had been control obtained, all ending with a scene where the government and the man stood confronted.

These were events that made today's session of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, with Edward H. Harriman as sole witness, a memorable one. They gave a vivid and intimate realization of the problems of swollen wealth and railway regulation and the partcipants, their utterances and the circumstances gave the inquiry importance. It all made a notable contribution to the financial history—light and dark—of the time. Mr. Harriman again occupied the stand throughout the entire day, and again was his examination in chief conducted by Frank B. Kellogg, of St. Paul, Minn., special counsel for the government. The statement of the witness to Stuyvesant Fish came in the middle of the morning session. Mr. Kellogg, in reference to the Illinois Central, spoke twice of the "squabble" between the witness and Mr. Fish.

Mr. Knapp, of the Commission, leaned over and addressed Mr. Harriman in a low tone.

His question apparently related to the Fish incident and Mr. Harriman spun his chair around facing the bench and said:

"Yes, in 1903, Mr. Fish deposited over half a million dollars of Illinois Central funds with the Trust Company of the Republic. We, the directors I mean, immediately directed the secretary to withdraw this money, and it was done."

Mr. Harriman then said that later in the same year Mr. Fish had deposited with the Trust Company of the Republic large amounts of Illinois Central funds, thus using this money to "pad the trust company's statement." Harriman said that he, personally, loaned Fish $1,200,000 to help him out, and so that he could take up various obligations.

Notwithstanding the board action, continued Mr. Harriman, in 1904 Mr. Fish again began to deposit money of the Illinois Central, with certain trust companies, "in order to pad statements. The trouble with Mr. Fish," said Mr. Harriman, "was that he looked upon the Illinois Central as his personal property."

He then told how Mr. Fish had entered into one contract for the construction for the Indianapolis and St. Louis railroad and committed the company without the consent or action of the board, and this when the board had previously expressed its disapproval of this project.

There was a renewal of the objection to the right of the Commission to inquire into the private stock transactions of Mr. Harriman and the matter took the same course as yesterday. The Commission ruled that the question must be answered. Then followed a formal refusal stated to be upon the advice of counsel and the record was in each instance formally completed. The first objection was against revealing the amount of holdings of Mr. Harriman, and his associates in the Santa Fe, and the second as to the existence of a pool or private understanding as to stock in the Illinois Central.

Mr. Harriman named in details the numerous railroads which his combination had scooped, and in reply to questions by the Commission declared that if they were allowed to do so they would take over the Santa Fe and several more desirable roads.

The University of Virginia alumni association of Washington gave its annual banquet in Washington last night, covers beoing laid for seventy guests. The principal speakers of the evening were Thomas Nelson Page, who acted as toastmaster; Dr. E. A. Alderman president of the University; Senator Edward W. Carmack, of Tennessee; Representative Flood, of Virginia, and Shirley, of Kentucky, and Medical Director Wise, of the United States navy.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—The Kinston Insurance and Realty Company, is a new business enterprise recently incorporated; capitalization, $100,000.

—Charlotte Observer: The current issue of The American Textile Wool & Cotton Reporter states that there is a movement on foot to establish a cotton yarns commission house in Charlote. The article stated that the house would certainly be established if the agencies of a sufficient number of Southern mills could be secured. Charlotte has long been recognized as the textile centre of the South and it is about time, in the natural course of events, that a commission house were established here.

—Elizabeth City, Feb. 25: The promoters of the new Nags Head Hotel drawn by Architect Land, of this city, are now busy. Plans have been drawn and the subscription books are now opened. Mr. Walter L. Cahoon, secretary of the chamber of commerce, has the soliciting of subscriptions in hand and is making rapid progress. The subscription agreement stipulates that the stock shall not be less than $30,000 or more than $50,000. All stockholders are to have a rebate of $5 per month on board at the hotel when it shall be in operation. Fully one-half of the required stock will be subscribed in the city.

—Greensboro, Feb. 25: Assistant Attorney General Alfred W. Cooley has arrived in the city, and will appear with District Attorney Holton in the prosecution of the cases against the Charlotte mill men charged with importing alien laborers in violation of the law. A number of the attorneys, defendants and witnesses are here to be present at the opening of the trial tomorrow morning. Messrs. Cooley Holton, and Coble today examined a number of the English girls who are government's witnesses. Two more girls arrived today from Charlotte. Judge James E. Boyd, who will try the cases, has been in Washington several days, but is expected to return tonight.

—Raleigh, Feb. 25: There have been three heavy sleets here this winter, but that of yesterday was the worst and did most damage. It extended all the way from Knoxville, Tenn., to Goldsboro and west and north of here did far more damage than at Raleigh. Only the fact that the weather turned somewhat warmer yesterday afternoon and that the rain did not freeze very much prevented a disaster. The mayor ordered the electric current shut off here yesterday afternoon and so there were no lights and no cars. Wires were down in all directions an da number of poles were broken. Only a few trees were ruined, but a good many were damaged. There was about an inch of snow yesterday morning.

—Statesville, Feb. 25: Mr. J. J. Love, of Wilkes, and a Mr. James, of Alexander county, were here the latter part of last week to see Real Estate Agent Gaither about buying farming lands in Iredell. These gentlemen told Mr. Gaither that former Republican Congressman R. Z. Linney, of Taylorsville is traveling all through their country telling the people that their lands are to be taken by the government for the "National Forest Reserve," and many of the people believe this foolish talk, and thinking their lands are to be confiscated for this purpose, are trying to sell out and go elsewhere before the reserve bill is passed. These gentlemn themselves seemed to be of the same opinion and were figuring on coming to Iredell. This foolish talk has caused land in sections of Wautauga, Wilkes and Alexander counties to greatly depreciate in value. One man in Wautauga, who last summer refused $4,000 for his plantation, is now willing to sell for $2,000. Other such instances were related by the gentlemen from the Bushy mountain counties. In these mountain counties are some of the finest orchards in the country.

—Shelby, Feb. 25: There was a sad occurrence near Earl, in this county, Saturday evening, when Luther Grant, a demented sort of youth, shot and killed Mr. C. S. Cox, a man about 55 years old. The story goes that Cox had gone to the home of Grant, and become quarrelsome, that he had a rifle with him; that he threatened Grant and ordered him out of his own house, at the asme time drawing his gun in the attitude of shooting; that Grant ran out of the door, snatching his gun from the bed as he went, and as he closed the door he fired, Cox immediately falling dead. Grant subsequently came to Shelby and surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Jap Suttle. There seems to be some mystery surrounding the case. Grant has borne the reputation of a peaceful, harmless fellow, but was never considered as being exactly bright. This is evidenced by the fact that his wife is twice his age and has a son over 25. It has been reported that Grant believed Cox was too intimate with his wife, and that he was worked into a frenzy by seeing Cox in his home under such circumstances. Grant has employed S. R. Hoey and O. M. Gardner to defend him. The case will be tried at the March term of court.

MOTHERHOOD

MRS. DANIEL SULLIVAN

Unquestionably preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound more successfully than by any other medicine, because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism and renders it perfectly normal.

A woman in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution. Read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Sullivan, 589 E. 7th Street, Flatbush, N. Y.

"What a blessing Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is to motherhood. I send you a picture of my three months' old baby and myself, and the photo shows the splendid condition of our health. That I am so well and the baby so healthy and happy is entirely due to your excellent remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it for five months before baby came and it brought me an easy confinement and kept me strong, whereas I was weak and in perfectly miserable health all the time when my first three children were born."

Mrs. Geo. Walters of Woodlawn, Ill., also writes:

"I feel it my duty to tell of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me and to recommend it to all expectant mothers to insure a healthy child and easy birth. I had lost three children and was discouraged when a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and it not only kept me well and strong but I have as healthy a child as you will find anywhere. I hope other discouraged women may read this letter and take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be benefited by it as I have been."

Women should remember that for more than thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been without a rival in sustaining woman's health and curing all those painful ailments peculiar to her sex. Its record shows that it has cured almost every form of female complaint, organic troubles, inflammation and ulceration, falling and displacements and consequent spinal weakness, and is peculiarly adapted to the periods of child-birth and change of life. It cures backache and all those bearing down sensations.

If there is anything about your case you do not understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice. It is absolutely free. Thousands of women have done so and have received help.

IT'S IN THE DRAFT.

The secret of the fuel-saving qualities of this Buck's hot blast heater lies in the draft construction. It is so made as to allow large quantities of heated air to pass over the upper surface of the burning coal, thus supplying oxygen to the rising gasses, which are then converted into heating power.

Simple, isn't it? And yet it's new principle in stove building—not to be found elsewhere.

This stove will reduce your coal bill nearly one-third.

Let us tell your of its many advantages.

COTON

New York, Feb. 26.—It was the first notice day for March contracts in the local market and notices representing about 40,000 bales were said to be in circulation early. But there was good demand for March in the open market, it was said that the notice were being promptly stopped and such scattering long accounts as were liquidated were taken on an advancing market. The close was steady at a net advance of 3 to 9 points on the active months, January being one point higher. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales. The opening was firm at an advance of 5 to 11 points in response to higher cables than looked for and reports of a good trade demand. March sold first at 9.30 or 5 points net higher, advanced to 9.34 before the call and later sold at 9.38 on covering by belated shorts and buying by spot people who seemed to be competing for the cotton tendered. At this advance, 11 to 13 points above the closing figures of last night on the active months and some 30 to 36 points above the recent low level, there was considerable realizing and during the afternoon prices reacted several points from the best but recovered part of the close in the last few minutes, with the more acive positions closing only 4 to 5 points off from the top. Southern spot marwets were unchanged to 1-4c higher, according to the official reports. Receipts continued full but large exports are expected for some time to come owing to reports of large freight room engagements from cotton shipping points and there are complaints of dry weather in the western belt.

Receipts at the ports today 40,554 bales against 59,539 last week and 27,366 last year. For the week 180,000 bales against 259,035 last week and 108,985 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 12,571 bales against 10,422 last year and at Houston 17,687 bales against 7,810 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady 5 points higher; middling uplands 11.05; middling gulf 11.30; sales 250 bales.

Futures closed steady.

The Dark Side

of a woman's life is seldom seen by anyone but herself. What agonies, what misery, what fits of melancholy and the blues, the poor, miserable sufferers from female disease have to endure, one month after another! What wonder so many thousands of women cannot truthfully say that they are happy! Are you? Happiness cannot be called complete without health, and health is best obtained by which has made many thousands happy in restored health and strength. "The doctors said I had nervous prostration, but gave me no relief," writes Lizzie Matthews, of Mt. Vernon, Ga. "I was sick for nine years. I could hardly eat and could not sleep. My back and hips ached, I was very irregular and would have to stay in bed two or three days. I have used 3 bottles of Cardui, and now I can say that my health is better than for the past nine years." Cardui relieves pain, regulates fitful functions, strengthens your weakest organs, makes you well and HAPPY. Try it.

tion by the railways of the State and fixes maximum charges. Chairman Manning, of the Public Service Corportion Committee, explained the bill at length. He said that it had been shown conclusively that North Carolina points could not compete with Virginia cities in business on account of discriminations in favor of the latter. It had been found that against haul rates was the general sum of local rates less 10 per cent. The committee had decided to increase this deduction from 10 to 25 per cent. and this partially made up for the discrimination. In some cases of joint haul the roads had not been deducting the ten per cent. In these cases the committee had determined that the deduction shall be 15 per cent. The great difficulty had been to get the bill framed so as not to work a hardship on the smaller roads. He did not claim the bill perfect but it would make a great improvement over present conditions and he believed that it would tend to establish prosperous wholesale houses in many North Carolina towns. He said the hardness of the present penalty laws as to freight shipments had been ameliorated so as to prevent dishonest shippers from taking unfair advantage of the common carriers.

Section 3 of the bill imposes a penalty of $5 per day on failure of transportation companies to furnish cars for shipments.

The bill passed its second reading by a vote of 51 to 34 with an amendment by Douglass that no shipper shall recover more than three times the value of the article lost in transit together with the actual damage incurred by the delay or loss; also with another amendment by Mr. Bickett to allow the Corporation Commission to excuse the smaller roads from the penalty in cases of merit.

Mr. Bickett said in discussing the bill that it would put out of business some sellers who have little stores but are really in the "penalty business."

The House has adopted a rule to meet hereafter at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Legislate Wadesboro Dry.

This afternoon there was a hearing before the Joint Committee on Liquor Traffic upon a bill by Redwine, of Union to legislate the town of Wadesboro and the county of Anson dry. Wadesboro now has saloons. The hearing continued for an hour and a half and the discussion was spirited, a delegation from Wadesboro having appeared to urge the bill. The Senate Committee voted 7 to 2 to report the bill favorably. The House Committee was present only to hear the discussion on the bill and took no vote on its standing on the measure. It is conceded that the bill to dry the county will pass the Senate but Mr. Lockhart, representative from Anson, says that he will be able to defeat it in the House; that the question has been recently passed upon by the voters of Wadesboro and that the Ward and Watts laws provide all the machinery for giving the people an opportunity of saying whether they want prohibition or saloons.

New Graham Bill.

The new bill introduced by Mr. Graham in the Senate today is an exact copy of the passenger rate bill passed a few days ago by the Alabama Legislature, and it was sent to him by a friend in that State. Major Graham says that he has just received it and that is why he had not introduced it earlier.

The bill is proposed to be effective 60 days from date of ratification. The railroads shall not be required to sell tickets for less than five cents for a single fare, and in cases of odd miles the passenger shall pay three cents for the last mile. The bill applies to all lines over 100 miles in length and their branches operating in this State. Any road knowingly violating the law by an overcharge shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall, upon conviction, be fined not less than $50 for each offence.

EVELYN WENT TO S. S.

Mother Has Done Nothing Against Daughter in Her Trial.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Pittsburg, Feb. 26.—Charles J. Holman issued a statement today in behalf of his wife, mother of Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, concerning young Mrs. Thaw's training. Holman denies that his wife gave District Attorney Jerome a statement or that Mr. Jerome used a statement from Mrs. Holman with which to embarrass young Mrs. Thaw on the witness stand. The statement is as follows:

"From the time Evelyn was 15 months old until she was eight years old, she was sent to Sunday School in Tarentum, Pa. After that the family moved to Allegheny, and she was sent to the Calvary Methodist Episcopal Sunday School for three years. After that her father died and her mother removed to Cedar Avenue, Allegheny. While living there Evelyn was sent to Sunday School with the children of the next door neighbors. Her mother removed from Cedar Avenue, Allegheny, to Highland Avenue, Pittsburg, and Evelyn went to the nearest Sunday School, which was at a Baptist Church in Highland Avenue. She was always sent to Sunday School as long as her mother had control of her.

"Her mother never left her daughter in the care of any man at any time. The public has heard but one side of the story. They have no right to express an opinion. We expect nothing else from ignorance, but educated people are supposed to weigh the evidence of both sides of a story before giving an opinion. Furthermore, Mr. Jerome has no affidavit from Mrs. Holman."

Hunting for Trouble.

"I've lived in California 20 years, and as still hunting for trouble in the way of burns, sores, wounds, boils, cuts, sprains, or a case of piles that Bucklen's Arnica Salve won't quickly cure," writes Charles Walters, of Alleghany, Sierra Co. No use hunting. Mr. Walters, it cures every case. Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's drug store. 25c.
